More than half of office workers aren't happy with their workplace coffee¹

NEW FOR 2018

71% feel their day is improved by a good mug

NEW research¹ from One Poll on behalf of Nestlé Professional² shows that more than half of office workers (56%) aren't happy with the coffee offered in their workplace.

The results also revealed that 21% said they're looking for a better coffee, and 21% said they're looking for a better coffee. And it's not their coffee that's the problem, it's the way it's served. 71% of office workers said they're looking for a better coffee, and 21% said they're looking for a better coffee.

The big coffee opportunity
 The opportunity lies in creating workplaces to serve in great tasting coffee to clear:

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

You may think your standard workplace first aid kit is satisfactory but you have a duty of care to ensure your first aid kits meet the needs appropriate to the circumstances of your workplace.

This involves making an assessment of various factors including:

- The size of your workplace
- The number of employees
- The type of business you operate
- The potential hazards/injuries risks
- Whether employees work on or off site
- The location of the kits within your premises

All of our First Aid kits comply to the latest BS and HSE regulations

It is essential that you think about the type of work performed and then try to anticipate the risks such as hazardous substances or burns, the possibility of accidents on or off site such as in a van or truck or in a factory or warehouse. If you need help assessing your first aid requirements or have a specific requirement or application that you need a kit for, please let us know and we will be happy to help.

The Health & Safety Executive (HSE) states in The Health and Safety (First Aid) Regulations 1981 that: "The contents of first aid containers should be examined frequently and should be restocked as soon as possible after use. Sufficient stocks should be held in a back-up stock on site."

Our new range of new First Aid kits and supplies can be found on page 30! Make sure your workplace is safe and secure!
